SENIOR PICTURE DEADLINE APPROACHING by Lori Griesert & Gina Chenoweth

Seniors and their parents need to be aware that the deadline for submitting senior pictures for this year's yearbook is January 15, 2018.

Seniors need to have their picture to Miss Griesert or Mrs. Chenoweth on or before that date if they wish to be included in the 2017-18 edition of the yearbook. Students may submit their picture electronically to lgriesert@ghvschools.org or gchenoweth@ghvschools.org, or on a CD, or may turn in a hard copy of their photo. All photos should be COLOR, and a traditional head and shoulder shot (no hands near or on the face) is preferred to achieve uniformity in the senior section of the yearbook. Please be sure the picture is a vertical one, not a horizontal one.

Additionally, seniors need to submit a baby photo that will be used in the yearbook and in the graduation day slide show. These are also due January 15, 2018.

Seniors or senior parents with questions may contact Miss Griesert or Mrs. Chenoweth at the high school.

FALL BOOK FAIR SUCCESS by Kristi Carew, K-12 Teacher Librarian

I would like to thank everyone who came to the GHV Elementary Library and purchased books from the Fall Book Fair during Parent-Teacher Conferences. Our total sales made it possible to select over $2000.00 in free books from Scholastic for our Elementary, Jr. High, and High School Libraries. The "Scholastic Dollars" earned have been matched dollar for dollar by the Hancock County Foundation. This provides additional funds that will be used to purchase books for all three of our school libraries in our GHV district.

Our PTO also generously gives each teacher in the Elementary and Intermediate buildings $10.00 to purchase classroom books from the fair to add to their classroom libraries. This gives our library an additional amount for book profit.

Our Spring Book Fair will be held during Parent-Teacher Conferences on March 20th and March 22nd. We look forward to seeing everyone back again to support reading in our GHV schools.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOL HEALTH OFFICE

by Nurses Bonnie & Holly

Has your child ever woken up not feeling well and you wondered, "Is it okay to send my child to school today?" GHV has policies in place to help you with this decision and to help stop the spread of illness.

When should you keep your child home?

- If your child has a temperature greater than, or equal to, 100.0 F.
- If your child is vomiting or experiencing diarrhea. They also need to be vomiting- diarrhea-free for 24 hours prior to returning to school.
- Did your child wake up with a pink, matted-shut eye? This could possibly be pink eye. Your child needs to be on prescription eye drops for 24 hours prior to returning to school.
- Was your child diagnosed with strep throat? If yes, your child needs to be on antibiotics for 24 hours prior to returning to school.
- If your child wakes up feeling miserable, laying head on breakfast table, constant cough and/or drainage running down nose, it may be a good idea to have a day of rest.

These guidelines are not only in place to get your child feeling his/her best so they can return to their learning environment, but to also stop the spread of infection at GHV Community School District. Thanks for being your child's best advocate! We couldn't do our job without you!

TIPS ON HEADLICE

As hat season is upon us, we thought we'd take a minute to review a little about head lice.

Remember you should always assume there is a case of lice in your child's classroom, or in the community. Therefore, you should check your child's head at least weekly to prevent the spread of lice.

Students found to have lice during the school day will not be sent home from school. Parents will be notified and will be asked to treat head lice before returning to school the next day. Classrooms will be notified if 20% of the class is known to have lice at any one given time.

Please note if your child is found to have head lice, treatment is about a two-week process. After treatment with lice shampoo, remember you need to comb child's hair daily with nit comb provided. Wash bedding, coats, hats, blankies on a high temperature setting frequently (every day to every other day). Wash combs/brushes/headbands in a bleach water solution. Vacuum mattress, pillows, couches daily. Don't forget to bag stuffed animals and any other plush items for up to two months.

HOW DO YOU CHECK FOR HEAD LICE?

Regular checks for head lice are a good way to spot head lice before they have time to multiply and infest (are present in large numbers) your child's head.

- Seat your child in a brightly lit room.
- Part the hair.
- Look for crawling lice and for nits on your child's scalp, a section at a time.
- Live lice are hard to find. They avoid light and move quickly.
- Nits will look like small white or yellow-brown specks and be firmly attached to the hair near the scalp. The easiest place to find them is at the hairline at the back of the neck or behind the ears. Nits can be confused with many other things such as dandruff, dirt particles, or hair spray droplets. The way to tell the difference is that nits are firmly attached to hair, while dandruff, dirt, or other particles are not.
- Use a fine-tooth comb to help you search the scalp section by section.

If you have questions about lice, please contact your child's school nurse.

GHV INDUSTRIAL TECH STUDENTS TOUR LOCAL BUSINESSES

by Josh Omans

During the month of October, working with the Garner Chamber of Commerce, students got the opportunity to visit for local manufacturers and see what happens behind their doors.

On October 6, a day which is widely recognized as Manufacturing Day, students toured Stellar Industries. The service truck manufacturer opened the doors to our students to showcase the technology they use in the manufacturing process of their service trucks and cranes. To conclude the tour, Stellar offered the students the opportunity to get hands on with their cranes.

The next business students had the opportunity to tour is Plas-Tech Tooling. Plas-Tech Tooling is a machine shop that has a diverse offering of services ranging from production machining, and plastic injection mold building, as well as the ability to run plastic injected parts. Students were able to see CNC machines in action, the precision measure tools in use, the precision fixturing used in the production machining process, as well as the plastic injection molding equipment.

Iowa Mold Tooling welcomed the students for the next tour. IMT has been a fixture in the Garner community for many years with its service truck and service crane manufacturing. The students were able to see the many robotic welding cells, the crane testing station as well as the assembly process the trucks work through. One of the highlights for the students was being able to see the military work that IMT also does.

For our final tour we visited Zinpro. Zinpro is manufacturer of feed additives used to improve animal wellness and performance. The students had an opportunity to see the equipment used in the process of mixing the feed additives as well as the automated equipment utilized to package and palletize the finished product. One thing that was highlighted was the fact that Zinpro is an international company and many of the products produced in Garner are bound for overseas destinations.

We cannot thank Stellar, Plas-Tech, IMT, and Zinpro enough for this great opportunity. College and Career Readiness is a focus in the high school, and this was a great opportunity for students to see careers in action. We would like to also give big thank you to Amber Jenniges of the Garner Chamber for lining up these tours. We look forward to working with Amber and the businesses to make these tours an annual event.

GHVJH STUDENT COUNCIL

by Becky Ziesmer & Jr. High Student Council

It has been a great start to 2017-2018 for the Junior High students at GHV. The GHV Junior High Student Council is picked each fall. The students have to give speeches in front of the student body and then each grade votes for their President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and three Council Representatives. We always have phenomenal speeches.

This school year the following students are on our Student Council: Ryan Darg, Shelby Howke, Benjamin Furst, Kye Mackey, Maxwell Whipple, Rhett Steenhard, Rylee Frayne, Samuel Wood, Alexander Tusha, Anna Zrostlik, Emma Goll, Garrett Heller, Kallie Atwell, Morgan Krein, and Reece Bruggeman.

The activities that we have done so far this school year are:

- Homecoming Participation by engaging in dress up days and cleaning up after the parade
- Fundraising for Hurricane Harvey at the Intermediate and the Junior High by collecting money in our first period classes, paying for dressing up, and having a bake sale during a JH Volleyball game. (GHV Intermediate and JH did great!!)
- Red Ribbon Week – we had announcements every day and paired dress up days with Red Ribbon themes to remind the students to strive to be drug- and alcohol-free.
- Bake Sale for Parent-Teacher Conferences
- Plans in our future are for a Dodge Ball/Dance Night, Christmas Shopping for a needy family, Valentine Cookie Sales, Spring Bake Sale, and last, having our 2nd Color Run in the spring

Our Administration and Student Assistance Team is in the process of writing a Junior High Student Council Constitution to establish some laws and rules for membership in the Junior High Student Council. This is a fun process and will help us in our future!

Thanks for supporting our Junior High Student Council in their endeavors!

WE ARE GOING TO PERU!

by June Bahnsen

The Spanish Department at GHV would like to announce the 2018 Spanish trip! Every 2 years we travel somewhere, and this time we are heading to Peru! We will be traveling to Peru from June 4- June 14. Students eligible to take this trip must have taken Spanish 2 by the time we travel in 2018 and should be enrolled in Spanish for the following year. This opportunity only comes around once every 2 years, so don't miss out! See our itinerary below.

On June 4, 2018, we will arrive in Peru's capital, Lima, which is one of the largest and most active in South America. We will be introduced to the Plaza de Armas, the heart of the old town and former center of Spain's new world empire; the (relatively) more modern Plaza San Martín with its early 20th century beaux-arts architecture; Gold Museum and Archaeological Museum, where we can explore the ruins of once-important Incan temples and palaces. We will visit both San Francisco church and Santo Domingo convent, exploring the catacombs, tombs and colonial architecture.

After two days in Lima, we will depart on an early flight to Cuzco, the historic capital of the Inca Empire. An afternoon guided tour shows our students the ancient fortress of Sacsayhuamán, the Inca bath of Tambo Machay, the sacred spot of Kenko, and the small fort of Puca Pucara.

The following morning we will board the train for the magnificent temple ruins of Machu Picchu. This famous Incan citadel of nearly 200 remaining structures set nearly 8,000 feet above sea level is as stunning as it is historic. We will learn about the 15th century Inca citadel on a guided sightseeing tour of the main sites. We will then spend the night in close by Aguas Calientes, named for its naturally occurring hot baths. The following morning we will once again return to the endlessly intriguing Machu Picchu. We will hike Huayna Picchu, and we can choose to either walk to the Sun Gate or imagine living during the Incan times at the Inca Bridge. That afternoon we will take the train back to Cuzco.

On June 10, we will be back in Cuzco. We will enjoy a full-day excursion to the resplendent Sacred Valley, believed to be the birthplace of the Inca Empire. We begin with a trip to see the salt mines of Maras and the nearby Incan circular terracing of Moray. We will continue to the village of Posac and interact with the locals at its famous Indian Market, after which we will visit the ruins of Ollantaytambo, another important Incan site and starting place of the Inca Trail.

The following day we will travel by private coach to the city of Juliaca, stopping en route at the archeological site in Racchi and the Spanish colonial town of Andahuaylillas. We will continue on to Puno, a famed folklore capital of Peru on the shores of Lake Titicaca.

On June 12 we will set off across Lake Titicaca by boat. Lake Titicaca is considered to be the largest lake in South America and the highest navigable lake in the world. In any case, it is spectacular. Your boat ride includes stops at Taquile Island and the Uros Islands, small floating islands crafted from packed totora reeds by the native community that resides there. Enjoy a cultural exchange with the Uros people to learn about their unique lifestyle and habitat.

Early the next morning we will visit to the ancient Chullpa Tombs of Sillustani. The pre-Incan funeral towers are something to see, and we'll learn more about their purpose and construction before continuing to Juliaca. We will enjoy a farewell dinner and then depart for the USA. We will arrive in the USA on June 14.

If you have any questions or you'd like to enroll, please contact June Bahnsen at jbahnsen@ghvschools.org or kklooster@ghvschools.org.

In the previous parent tip, Know! – What Kind Of Parent Are You? we broke down the four basic parenting styles. Based on the descriptions, you were hopefully able to determine your overall parenting style. Now is your chance to see how your parenting style measures up for your child's success.

To review, the four basic parenting styles are: Authoritarian, Authoritative, Permissive and Uninvolved.

Now let's take a look at how significantly and uniquely each style affects a child's healthy growth and development, including their decision-making and risk-taking.

The Authoritarian Parent: Children of Authoritarian parents tend to be rule-followers amongst adults of authority, however, researchers say these children may become hostile or aggressive toward other youth; they are known to be fearful and shy, associate obedience with love, have lower self-esteem, lack spontaneity, and many times become accustomed to lying in order to avoid punishments. These youth are at increased risk for substance use.

The Authoritative Parent: In general, children of Authoritative parents tend to fare the best. They are usually better at recognizing safety risks and tend to make better choices; they know they can turn to their parents for non-judgmental advice and guidance; they are typically happier kids and more successful in school. These children are the least likely to engage in risky behaviors, including drinking, smoking and using other drugs, and are the most likely to grow into responsible, confident adults who feel comfortable sharing their opinion.

The Permissive Parent: Though unlikely to admit it, children actually crave structure, because knowing what is expected of them and being held to it actually creates a sense of safety. Permissive parenting does not provide that. In fact, it creates the opposite effect. Research published in the scientific Journal of Early Adolescence showed that these teens are three times more likely to engage in heavy underage alcohol consumption - likely due to their lack of consequences. These youth tend to be insecure and self-centered, lacking self-discipline and self-control; they are more likely to clash with authority and typically do not perform well in school.

The Uninvolved Parent: This type of parenting is dangerous and damaging, but not always intentional. Many times, this parent has mental health issues or substance misuse problems, or they may be overwhelmed in other areas of their lives, like work, paying bills and managing the household. Sadly however, there are some moms and dads who simply do not care about being a good parent. Regardless of the reason, these children typically struggle academically and socially, have low self-esteem, and a high risk for substance misuse and other problem behaviors.

Experts agree that the Authoritative parenting style creates the healthiest environment for a child to grow and develop. Many parents have a blend of styles, but the key is for the parent-child relationship to be one high on warmth, communication and expectations. If you find your parenting style to be lacking in one area or another, take the opportunity to tweak it. If you feel overwhelmed, do not know where to begin or could just use some support, do not be ashamed to seek professional help.
